

228917 Electric Strike Lock

BALANIR Group

---

| Product photo                                                                      |                                                   |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------|
|  |                                                   |
| Model                                                                              | 228917                                            |
| Dimension                                                                          | 150L*21W*29H mm                                   |
| Lock Materials                                                                     | Zinc Alloy                                        |
| Plate Materials                                                                    | #304 Stainless steel                              |
| Working Voltage                                                                    | 12VDC                                             |
| Working Current                                                                    | Max. 1300mA, Usually is 220mA                     |
| Feature                                                                            | Fail safe                                         |
| NO Type                                                                            | Open when power off; And it closed when power on. |